The Grist Mill

A WPA sewing project, planned to give employment to 100 women, was all set to get under way in Ardmore recently in the Ardmore avenue public school. Permission to use two third-floor rooms in the building four days per week had been granted by the Lower Merion School Board, provided there was no expense to the school district in fitting them for use. Then the WPA authorities produced an agreement and lease which they wished signed before the project could start. School authorities refused to sign. Why? Because the agreement contained a clause that all coal for heating any buildings used for WPA projects must be produced by collieries owned or controlled by Senator Joseph F. Guffey.

It is reported that Marios Chios, proprietor of the Arcadia Restaurant in Narberth, won a meal ticket on a Bryn Mawr restaurant at the Birthday Ball for the President last week. Also that Austin Hartzell, of the Essex Kandy Kounter, won a quart of Harry Hamer's ice cream.

The celebration planned in Narberth next Wednesday evening to commemorate the fortieth anniversary of the borough and the withdrawal of the merger petition from the court recently recalls a judicial decision handed down at Norristown on December 3, 1894. The opinion by Judge P. J. Swartz, granting the petition for the incorporation of Narberth as a borough, preserved in the vaults at the courthouse, reads as follows:

"The reasons given by the petitioners satisfy us that they are in need of a municipal government, such as an incorporation into a borough will afford them. Their streets need supervision; the drainage needs attention; and their nearness to a large city and the racetracks in the vicinity call for proper police protection. The majority of the citizens are anxious to improve their surroundings. Their voluntary association is no longer sufficient to meet their necessities. Nor is it just that these voluntary contributions should inure to the benefit of those who decline to contribute. Their complaint that the road taxes levied within the limits of the proposed borough are expended within the township without giving a corresponding benefit to the citizens of the village is fully made out and sustained. ## Anthwyn Farms Section Seeks Mail Delivery From Merion Post Office

Inclusion of the Anthwyn farms section of Lower Merion Township in the district served by the Merion post office is requested in a petition which has been forwarded to the Post Office Department at Washington.

A committee of six members, headed by Mrs. Charles M. Thompson, Jr., of 217 Avon road, secured the signatures of 231 residents of the section on the petition.

At present the Anthwyn farms section is served by the Narberth post office.

"We feel that we are entitled to mail delivery from the Merion post office since we really live in Merion and because of the mistakes and confusion that results at present," Mrs. Thompson said this week.

The streets which the petition requests be included in the Merion district for mail delivery are Merwyn road, Rockavon road, Anthwyn road, Avon road, the south side of Haverford avenue, Iona and Hampden avenues south of Haverford avenue, and Oak road.

Members of the committee, in addition to Mrs. Thompson, seeking the change are Mrs. R. O. Rocknagle, 537 Oak road; Herbert A. George, 402 Anthwyn road; Frederick W. Lacey, 416 Anthwyn road; Mrs. Walter B. Tait, Avon and Oak roads, and Adolph Vogel, 218 Avon road.

Narberth Players to Give Famed Scotch Comedy, February 14 & 15

Fresh as a breeze from Ben Lomond and every bit as inspiring is the famous Scotch comedy, "Bunties Pulls the Strings," by Graham Moffat, which will be produced by the Narberth Players next Friday and Saturday evenings, February 14 and 15, in the Narberth school auditorium.

Few pieces have had drawn to them the attention that has fallen to the lot of "Bunties," which is a delicious comedy, satirical in vein, of Scotch life in the lowlands. Color, movement and incidents of the simplest kind are fused in a charming manner, illuminated by whimsical humor and touched here and there with moments of pathos and passages of genuine sentiment.

The scenes take place in a little Scotch village where "Tammie Biggar" keeps his shop and rules with Calvinistic severity over his motherless "lairns," Bunties, a winsome girl of 20 with a wise, womanly head, and Rab, who is so young and thoughtless that he whistles on Sunday. But Tammie, for all his severity and church-going, has borrowed without the owner's consent some funds left in his care by an acrid spinster, Miss Susie Simpson. He does this to meet the excesses of a prodigal son. There have also been other shadowy movements in the life of Tammie. Years ago he jilted Eelen Dunlop and that lady now turns up, his sins are found out, and there are some critical moments for Tammie.

But Bunties—who pulls all the strings—wins the day for her father. Weaker will readily conform to hers. Her big, loutish lover and she sacrifice their marriage portion to save her father. And then "Bunties" string-pulling straightens out a number of other matters. She rescues her father from the designing old spinster and unites him to the now mellow love of his early days. In fact, she is a mouth-piece of Providence in her little world and when the curtain falls "Bunties" has "pulled the strings" with excellent results.

The greatest praise was bestowed upon the comedy by every reviewer in New York. In fact the play is nothing short of a sensation. The New York World referred to it as having "all the exhilaration of a Scotch high-

PLAN ENTERTAINMENT

Plans are practically complete for the Lincoln's Birthday party to be given by the Narberth Home Rule Committee next Wednesday evening, February 12.

The affair will be held at Elm Hall instead of the Legion room of the Community Building, as previously announced.

Arranged to observe the advent of Narberth's third generation as a self-governing community, the party is also planned "to make whoopee over the Court's recent decision that there shall be no more of this merger monkey business," according to an official of the Home Rule Committee.

All borough residents who are in sympathy with the aims of the Home Rule Committee are cordially invited to attend. Contributions will be accepted to help defray expenses.

The program will include two skits by members of the Narberth Players, a couple of acts of professional entertainment, music and a burlesque on the court hearing on the merger petition. Refreshments will be served.

"Pirates" to be Given Tonight & Tomorrow

Bala-Cynwyd Woman's Club Scene of Choral's Performance of Operetta

DANCING ON SATURDAY

In "most effective but alarming costume" the famous "Pirates of Penzance" will make their first appearance this evening at the Bala-Cynwyd Woman's Club, together with the lovely ladies, the policemen, etc., who make up the cast and chorus of this delightful and entertaining two-act operetta. It will be repeated Saturday night.

The scene is laid in jolly old England, and like all Gilbert and Sullivan operettas, contains an abundance of nonsense, sufficient drama and a satisfactory amount and quality of music to please the musician without boring the movie fan. In other words, it is recommended for the entire family and every family.

Dancing will follow Saturday's performance, with music by San Hansen's Orchestra.

The members of the cast, whose names will be remembered from previous choral performances as well as from their other musical activities, are:

Mabel, General Stanley's youngest daughter, Rosemary Mueller; Frederick, a pirate apprentice, Andrew Canale; Richard, pirate king, Albert G. Weidensaul (Poo-Bah of "Mikado"); Sir Joseph of "Pinafore"; Samuel, his assistant, Robert Greenwood (Pish-Tush of "Mikado"); Major General Stanley, of the British Army, Warren Holland (Ko-Ko of "Mikado"); Sergeant of Police, James Tilbury; Kate, Edith and Isabel, General Stanley's daughters, Mary Ancona, Matilda Hapold (Josephine of "Pinafore") and Peggy MacGuffin, and Ruth, maid of all work, Gladys Buzby Darwin (Katisha of "Mikado") Buttercup of "Pinafore").

Editorial Comment

An interesting development in regard to the financing of volunteer fire companies is under consideration in Haverford Township. There the imposition of a special fire tax, permissible under a new State law, is being considered because of the difficulty of raising sufficient funds from contributions to meet the expenses of the companies. This condition, which prevails also in Lower Merion and Narberth, has been recognized by township and borough governing bodies who have made substantial appropriations to help defray fire company expenses. Lower Merion allots $40,000 annually to its five volunteer fire companies, while Narberth spends over $7,000 in fire protection. These funds have become, in many instances, the only assured sources of income. In both township and borough, authorities have stipulated that allotments of public funds must be used exclusively for maintenance of fire fighting equipment, leaving the companies to meet their other expenses as best they may.

Fire companies of the Main Line may be considered as being in a transitional period. They are manned by volunteers, with the exception of one or two paid men on duty at all times, and receive most of their funds from the public treasury. When the club features of the companies fail to attract volunteers then their support will fall entirely upon the local municipalities and paid departments will have to be set up.

The financing of fire protection entirely by means of tax funds has the advantage of uniformity. Every property owner would pay for protection in proportion to his assessment. Under the present system of contributions still in vogue, the burden too often falls upon a few public-spirited persons who give more than their fair share and sometimes beyond their means, in time as well as money.

During the depression years the contributing membership lists of the local fire companies have dwindled, and had not governing bodies come to the rescue with appropriations, standards of fire protection would have gone down and insurance rates gone up. High standards of fire protection must be maintained on the Main Line. If voluntary contributions cannot be depended upon to supply the needed funds, then some uniform method of taxes for fire protection, such as is proposed in Haverford Township, must needs be adopted.

In the Mailbag

To the Editor of Our Town:

When there's raw beef in a man's eye, and when he has to write his pieces on a mantelpiece, it is reasonable to look for utterances which reflect his sorry plight.

So there they are again, as incorrigible as ever, and as devious as usual, but don't let anybody be deceived nor perturbed, as the outlandish scheme will never start again, and neither are we apt to have a report (at least, a trustworthy one) from that so-called "investigating committee" regarding those 700 and more blatant forgeries, nor will we ever have an explanation as to why the three big shots of the merger committee took affidavits indicating they were not aware that they were dealing with a putrid petition, despite their daily experience with it for four long years, when their own lawyer, after only twenty-five minutes' investigation, and without any personal knowledge of our town, declared that the nasty thing reeked with fraud and that he would have nothing to do with it.

Is this the kind of intelligence which should have the consummate nerve to present itself for community leadership and what say you they were, fools or knaves, for the circumstances make inevitable one thing or 't'her, a dilemma which cannot be sidestepped even by these pastmasters of crafty evasion.

Last week afforded evidence that we desired to keep the penal note out of the postmortem, but it is apparent that any such decent gestures are far over the head of this queer crew, and this is fair notice that they are not going to move a single step without the closest kind of surveillance.

J. J. CABREY.

Enlarges on Talk

To the Editor of Our Town:

I have been asked for details of my talk last week to the Bala-Cynwyd Rotary Club on the subject of "Mercy Killing of Children."

The discussion was confined to children principally because of our interest in them, and also that the adult has lived his life and can decide for himself on the question of death.

The talk covered the topic from the religious and humane; medical and legal attitudes. Much discussion both for and against were given the religious and humane aspects, with many fine arguments given in support of both sides. The legal aspect has only one answer, but with the medical angle there is again much discussion as to the classification of the "incurables."

The main issue therefore lies in the determination of whether one can be cured or not and an injustice is liable to be done in many cases. Many diseases, which only a few years ago were classed as incurable, today are curable.

Endorsed by Hess

HON. J. WILLIAM DITTER
Montgomery County Congressman, who as a candidate for re-nomination, received the endorsement of Peter C. Hess, Lower Merion Republican leader, this week.

The Political Pot

According to present indications a good scrap is in the offing for the Republican nomination for Congressman from Montgomery County. Petitions were put in circulation Wednesday, January 29, by J. William Ditter, the incumbent, while on Friday, Clarence Ederer, former Representative at Harrisburg, put out his petitions. A statement endorsing Ditter, issued over the week-end by William D. Ridgway, president of the Board of County Commissioners, is viewed as a setback for Ederer's candidacy. A further blow at Ederer's cause was struck this week when Peter C. Hess, Lower Merion Township treasurer, came out strongly for Ditter. His statement is printed elsewhere in this issue.

Another candidate has joined the wide-open race for Republican nominee for Representative from the First Legislative District. She is Miss Blanche E. Meeser, of 441 Woodbine avenue, which is in the General Wayne district of Lower Merion Township, but contiguous to Narberth. Miss Meeser's petitions are in circulation. She is a member of the Lower Merion Board of Health and has been active in the League of Women Voters and the Business and Professional Women's Club of Philadelphia. . . . That makes two women candidates to date for the post, Mrs. Margaret G. Town, of Narberth, having announced her candidacy a few weeks ago.

All members of the County Committee, two from each election district for both major parties, will be elected at the primary on April 28. Next Wednesday, February 12, is the first day on which petitions for this post may be put in circulation. March 24 is the last day for filing petitions with the County Commissioners. A few changes are anticipated in the line-up of the Republican County Committee in Lower Merion and Narberth.

Republican committee members in Narberth area as follows: District 1, Charles V. Noel and Mrs. Louise V. Cockrill; District 2, Harvey J. Harman and Mrs. C. C. Tyson; District 3, Herbert A. Barton and Mrs. Margaret Griswold.

"Mister Hobo" and "Ah, Wilderness" at Narberth, Amateur Night Wednesday

"Mister Hobo," George Arliss' current opus, brings to Narberth's screen this week-end a novel characterization wherein the screen's perfect old gentleman forsakes his long series of historic impersonations and becomes "Mister Hobo." Very human, very lovable, the film is excellent family fare.

"Ah, Wilderness," the Eugene O'Neill comedy drama of New England in 1906, coming Monday and Tuesday, should not be missed. Superb characterizations are given by Wallace Beery, Lionel Barrymore, Eric Linden and Aline MacMahon.

Tuesday night at 9, valuable gifts will be presented.

"Stars Over Broadway" is coming Wednesday, with a talented cast headed by Pat O'Brien and James Melton. That night at 9 o'clock will be the second in a series of five "Amateur Auditions" on the theatre's stage on the order of Major Bowes' programs.

Thursday, the film will be "The Perfect Gentleman," an amusing comedy, with Frank Morgan, Heather Angel and Herbert Mundin.

"Whipsaw" will end the week—an unusually clever and pleasant crook picture—with Myrna Loy and Spencer Tracy.

"Thanks a Million" and Mickey Mouse are Now at Egyptian; "Mimi" Coming

"Thanks a Million," the all-star musical comedy, is at the Egyptian, with Dick Powell, Ann Dvorak, Fred Allen, Patsy Kelly, Paul Whiteman and band, with Ramona and the King's Men, and Rubino and Raymond Walburn and the Yacht Club Boys. Song hits include "I'm Sittin' High On a Hilltop." The story, adapted to screen by Nunally Johnson, is that of a wildcat amusement troupe, dashing about the country under the not so benign guidance of Fred Allen.

Also on the current program there's a new Walt Disney cartoon no Mickey Mouse fan will want to miss—"The Fire Brigade."

"The Melody Lingers On," at the Egyptian next Monday and Tuesday, is Lovell Brentano's story of an American girl studying music abroad, who has a romance with a famous opera singer during the war. The excellent cast includes Josephine Hutchinson, George Houston, John Halliday and Helen Westley.

WON WITH "CAPRICIOUS"

Frederick Kohloss, son of Captain F. H. Kohloss, 45 Rockglen road, Overbrook Hills, won the sixth annual spelling championship in Lower Merion Junior High School on Thursday, January 30, when he defeated a field of thirty-two homeroom group champions in the annual "spelling bee."

Principal Ralph Davenport, of the Ardmore Avenue School, announced the words. Miss Mary Baum, Leon Perkins and Miss Josephine Tyson were the judges. Virginia Feather, 112 St. Pauls road, Ardmore, was runner-up in a very interesting and exciting finish, but retired upon leaving the "e" from "capsule." ### Prosecutions Brought for Milk Violations

Six prosecutions have been brought during the past month for violations of the milk regulations of the milk control district, comprising Lower Merion and Haverford Townships and the Boroughs of Narberth, Lansdowne and Aldan.

This was reported by Dr. George W. Grim, milk control officer of the district, at the meeting of the Lower Merion Board of Health Monday night.

In each case the defendant pleaded guilty and paid the fine and costs. Five of the actions were brought against milk companies and one proprietor of a store.

A tentative revision of the health regulations of the township was presented at the meeting by Dr. Bertrand K. Wilbur, chairman of the Law and Ordinance Committee of the board.

Included is a new section which bans breeding places for mosquitoes. It reads: "It shall be unlawful for any person to have, keep, maintain or permit within corporate limits of Lower Merion Township any collection of standing or flowing water in which mosquitoes breed or are likely to breed."

Four More Cases of Scarlet Fever Reported in Township

Eleven new cases of contagious diseases, including four of scarlet fever, were reported for the week ending January 31 in Lower Merion Township.

New cases are: Chickenpox, 4; pneumonia, 1; whooping cough, 2; and scarlet fever, 4.

The scarlet fever cases are: Verna Dramis, 11, of 152 Ashland avenue, West Manayunk; Dorothy Dramis, 9, of 152 Ashland avenue, West Manayunk; Hilda Bastiani, 4, of 358 East Spring avenue, Ardmore, and Frederick Dredford, 20, of 20 Hayden avenue, Bryn Mawr.

A total of twenty-six cases of contagious diseases were reported under quarantine.

Leaves $20,000 to Wife

George H. Stier, Cynwyd, left an estate of $20,000 to his wife, Anna H. Stier, under the terms of his will admitted to probate at the courthouse at Norristown. The widow and son, Robert H. Stier, are named executors. The will is dated November 15, 1927.

To Exhibit Animal Paintings

An exhibition of animal paintings in oils and water colors will be given by Miss Jacqueline Bird, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Montgomery Bird, of Beacom lane, Merion, at Friends' Central School on Thursday, February 13.

Pirate's Nurse

GLADYS BUZBY DARWIN who is nurse to the pirate apprentice in the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta given this week-end by the Bala-Cynwyd Community Choral. In previous shows here she played Buttercup and Katsina.

Girl Scout News

February is International Month in Girl Scouting. Lord Baden-Powell is World Chief Scout and Lady Baden-Powell heads the World Association of Girl Scouts and Girl Guides. Girl Scout or Girl Guide troops exist in thirty-three countries and American Girl Scouts receive throughout the year friendly messages from troops or individual Girl Scouts in these various countries.

The international encampment takes place each summer at "Our Chalet" in Adelboden, Switzerland, and is attended by three outstanding American Girl Scouts who receive Juliette Low awards, as well as representatives from Estonia, Egypt, Denmark and the other thirty-three countries which enjoy Girl Scouting privileges.

World friendship through closer contact and mutual understanding is a corner stone of the Girl Scout building and plans for observing this principle locally will culminate in an all-city international folk festival to be held on Saturday afternoon, March 28, when each district will be represented by a chosen troop in costume.

A Girl Scout visit to "Our Chalet" in Switzerland and to other Girl Guides and Girl Scouts in other countries will be conducted by Miss Julia Williamson next summer if a dozen Philadelphia Girl Scouts (15 years or older) are interested. Except on shipboard, the group will travel in uniform and function as a troop. For further information write Headquarters, 311 South Juniper street, or Miss Julia Williamson, 2303 Spruce street, Philadelphia.

Troop 125

Many mysterious plans are afoot for the folk dance festival. Troop 125 has chosen to do a Russian folk dance. Miss Mabelle Rose, of Merion, will teach them the dance and music.

The Tenderfoot girls drew a map with trail signs to show how they come to the Scout meeting. Early in a girl's Scout life she learns to know woodcraft signs, which help her to follow a trail. After they know these signs, the Scouts can go on hikes. One group of girls goes ahead and "lays the trail." Another group, who have no idea of their destination, follow this trail and end at the campsite.

A hilarious signaling game helped the Second Class girls remember their code.

The meeting was closed with a good-night circle.

Troop 8

Phyllis Folwell, Janet Hicks and Shirley Vincent acted as color guard in the flag ceremony which opened the meeting last Tuesday evening.

Cappie then showed the girls several interesting nature books, which the troop decided to buy. These will be the beginning of the troop library.

All the scouts who attend Narberth school are asked to be present at 10 o'clock Saturday, when they will prepare the program for the scout service on March 6.

In patrol corners the girls planned next week's meeting and learned some more of the Morse code, which they practiced later in the meeting. After the signaling games they practiced their selection for the song contest and learned a new song. The song contest will be held at Bryn Mawr in the latter part of February.

Miss Banning Grange, daughter of Mrs. William Drayton Grange, of "Brook House," Bryn Mawr, will leave on Tuesday, February 11, for a week's stay in Bermuda.

Upswing in Building Activity Continuing

Report for Last Month Shows $107,838 Increase Over January, 1935

11 HOUSES UNDER WAY

A continuation of the increased activity in building construction, which last year amounted to over one million dollars more than 1934, is indicated in the report for January of C. E. Rahn, township superintendent of building inspection.

Permits issued during the month totaled thirty-four for work estimated to $192,737. This is an increase of seven permits and $107,838 in value of construction over January, 1935.

Eleven of the permits issued were for single family dwellings, costing $155,815. Eight permits were for alterations and additions estimated at $20,350.

Other permits issued were as follows: Private garages, 2, $1040; business buildings, 2, $7600; repair fire damage, 1, $4400; demolishing, 1, $50; oil burning equipment, 4, $3092, and signs, 5, $390.

The summary of building by districts shows the most activity in Cynwyd, General Wayne, Merion Square and Penycyd. South Ardmore and Rosemont were next in order.

There was comparatively little activity in North Ardmore, the Bryn Mawr districts, Bala and West Ardmore and none in Merion.

Services Held Tuesday for Dr. Robert D. Rhein, of Cynwyd

Funeral services were held at the Church of St. Asaph, Bala, on Tuesday at 2 P. M. for Dr. Robert Davies Rhein, of 318 Bryn Mawr avenue, Cynwyd, who died last Saturday in the Graduate Hospital, Philadelphia, following an operation. He was 69. Interment was in West Laurel Hill Cemetery.

Former chief physician of the American Stomach Hospital, Dr. Rhein received his medical degree from the University of Pennsylvania in 1901 and practiced in Philadelphia.

He was for many years physician of the Home for Incurables and had also served on the staffs of the Philadelphia General and Howard Hospitals. He was a fellow of the College of Physicians of Philadelphia.

Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Bradford Smith and Miss Elizabeth H. Rhein, both of Cynwyd.

Gas Station Sought on Property in Gladwyne

An appeal will be taken to the Lower Merion Board of Adjustment by John B. Laughhead who seeks to build a gasoline filling station at Youngsford and Conshohocken State roads, Gladwyne. The proposed site is in a "D" residence district.

The Board will also hear an appeal for the extension of the one year's variance granted to the Medley Foundation, 464 State road, Cynwyd, whose proprietor is Benjamin Hill.

The Bryn Mawr Conservatory of Music, Montgomery avenue, Bryn Mawr, will seek permission to erect a sign on its property.

Public hearings on these appeals will be conducted by the Board of Adjustment on Thursday evening, February 27.

Food Sale 15th

The opposition offered by Lansdowne High School last Friday night will have a beneficial influence over the playing of the Maroon in their game with Upper Darby tonight—we hope. Bill Anderson's hirelings started out in a loafing mood, just nonchalant, you know, nothing to worry about. Those Lansdowne boys from the borough had played them toe to toe and point to point.

The Bulldogs had to open throttle during the last half, and though pressed by Todd Coronway's players to the very last second, were able to win by a ten-point margin.

"If this be treason—" Don't be surprised and upset too much if Upper Darby takes the measure of Bill Anderson's team tonight. If Lower Merion does not have the strongest team in the league, then Upper Darby has. Year in and year out, it is the Purple of the Royals that flashes closer and closer to the top. I have the impression that at this moment Lew Goas' squad is mentally fit for their best game of the year. Those who think the Upland's are weakened by the loss of Bill Spaide will be disagreeably surprised. Although Bill was undoubtedly one of the most gifted players in the circuit, the team will play better basketball without him. This is no reflection on the young captain, it is merely a psychological situation that arises. The boys on the team will be trying harder to make up for the loss of one of their outstanding players and will be doing a better job than the layman thinks possible. Unless Lower Merion is keyed to an even pitch with Lew Goas' team, then you may confidently expect Upper Darby to go away with a victory. "—Make the most of it."

League games remaining on Lower Merion's schedule: Upper Darby tonight at Lower Merion, Haverford at South Ardmore next Friday night, Cheltenham at home on the 21st and Norristown at Villanova on the 28th. Overbrook, Radnor and Valley Forge fill in on Tuesdays, all to be played at the local gymnasium.

The Junior High School plays at Collingswood and at Upper Darby this week. The Orange and Black has an up and coming squad this year, one that will be difficult for any junior high team before the season is over. A record of six victories and two defeats during the month of January, with nine games to be played. Phoenixville, Upper Darby, Haverford, Collingswood and Edison offer the greatest opposition of any of the teams on the schedule this year. Collingswood has the strongest team of all.

The Norristown sporting fraternity (mostly brothers) can now turn their attention to local affairs. Since the Blue Eagles lost three (3) in a row, former boosts will turn to knocks. There will be many a tin can full of verbiage tied to the rear of the Norristown basketball vehicle ere now.

is it possible for the supervisors of the township to fully meet their wants. Supervisors do not direct the construction of sidewalks or attempt to fix a town system of street grades. Where a majority of the village is ready to make much-needed improvements to give themselves comfortable homes, the project should be encouraged. The township seems to recognize the justice of the petitioners' claims, for it does not appear as an exceptant to the proceedings.

Miss Lydia R. Woolman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Woolman, of Haverford, has as her guest for several weeks Miss Cloyd Stiffer, of Chicago.

Politics in Cuba is Subject of Talk at Rotary Club

Cuba's dependence on the United States for her sugar market and for financing has made favorable trade treaties an important factor in their affairs. "Cuba needs a stable government and a better understanding of her condition," the speaker concluded.
